Parental Accountability Court Program

The Parental Accountability Court (PAC) program is a joint effort of the Division and Superior Court Judges to offer an alternative to incarceration and to help chronic nonpayers of child support make regular payments. The program uses community resources and judicial oversight to address barriers that keep parents from meeting their support obligations. Each program, including services provided to participants, is tailored to the needs of the local community. Superior Court Judges provide judicial oversight and collaborate with PAC coordinators to implement the program. PAC coordinators connect participants to existing community resources.

Services Offered to Participants
- Volunteer work opportunities
- Literacy training
- Job assistance/placement
- Mental health services
- Clinical assessments
- Substance abuse treatment
- Coaching/mentoring
- Additional services specific to each local community

Judicial Circuits with PACs

Parental Accountability Courts are in operation in 43 judicial circuits across the state. The Division’s goal is to establish PACs in all 49 judicial circuits.

By the Numbers

Since State Fiscal Year 2009, the PAC program has helped

5,642
noncustodial parents who were at risk of incarceration avoid jail time and provide much needed support to

13,294*
of Georgia’s children. Program participants paid an estimated
